

TAKE YOUR TIME

T.Y.T

1

Any times in Life we make decisions that are not aligned with our Purpose. These decisions have no staying power and soon are forgotten. Decisions that are aligned with your Purpose embodied in your Definite chief aim statement are remembered because they are truly significant to you.

— Ray Stendall

When considering linear time, it appears to exist in three parts: past time, current time, and future time. Past time might be defined as moving back mentally in time to consider what choices we made that contributed to where we find ourselves today. Future time might be defined as moving forward mentally in time to consider what choices we make today that can determine our future outcomes.

3

urrent time might be defined as the moment by moment time we exist in now and is the only real time we have.

This present time best serves us when it is combined with insight, that quality that causes us to go inside ourselves for the purpose of considering what lessons are relevant for us to use in this our present moment.

We can watch a clock,
Turn the page on a
calendar, journal our daily experience, and chart the progress of time in numerous physical ways. Spiritually, our comprehension of time is different. It is more circular.

5

II this is interesting to consider, but in our walking world time marches on and we need to be in step with the marching band if we want to be in the Parade! That is why Dr. Hill reminds us to use our time efficiently and wise.

6

time is the essence of our being, and when we are out of time we cease to exist in this realm. So, if life is a checkerboard, the opponent against us, is time. Play the game to your best advantage by recognizing that time waits for no man or woman.

7

Given this fact,
you can then gain
the insight that the best use of the time we are given is critical in our lifetime accomplishments. Be wise and use time to your very best advantage.

knowing that my habits of thought become the patterns which attract
all the circumstances affecting my life through the lapse of time, I shall keep my mind so busy in connection with the circumstances & desire that no time will be left to devote to fears and frustration and the things I do not desire.

9

In the Future I shall regard the loss, through neglect, of any portion of my time as a sin,
for which I must atone by the better use in the Future of an equivalent amount of it
